ARDSLEYAN '64

A black and white photograph of a young pine tree in front of a building with large windows. The tree is in the foreground, and the building is in the background. The title 'ARDSLEYAN '64' is printed in large, bold, serif capital letters across the upper portion of the image, partially obscuring the building's windows.

Ardsley, New York

a world in itself. . .

From the first day of school in the seventh grade to the final fulfillment of the Senior year, Ardsley High represents a world of ideas, hopes and accomplishments.

The teachers guide the activities and provide leadership for our world. They watch the students rise in status as new nations rise to world powers. This development is only achieved through intense individual striving, aided by the teachers. The final goal is to coordinate the students' talents and knowledge in order to prepare them for the adult world.

The abundance of talent provides a basis for excellence in scholarship and school activities. Uniting these diverse efforts is the enthusiasm of the members of our world.

In Memoriam

JOHN NUGENT

The realization of death cannot have significance until it is near at hand. The passing of John Nugent came as a shock to the students of Ardsley High School and those who knew him were greatly saddened by the loss of a young man who so loved life.

John Nugent will always be remembered for his congenial personality and friendly manner. Willingly, he served the school on the Student Council and engineered the lighting behind the scenes at plays and assemblies. In whatever John participated his presence brought warmth and optimism.

John's death is felt as a great loss to everyone who knew him, his friends at Ardsley and at Hawthorne College where he was a freshman. Our respect stands in tribute to his amiable personality.

Dedication

JOAN T. ENGLAND

Every student who has studied under Miss England will remember her lively manner and sparkling good humor. With genuine interest she brings geography and economics to life for her students and inspires them to do their best. The leadership and enthusiasm of her personality are projected into whatever she does, and one is not surprised to find her assisting in many school activities. Her devotion to the senior class as their guiding advisor and her management of the Bookstore and the Current Events Club are just a few of the many services which she performs for our school.

It is the hope of the class of 1965 that this dedication will show our sincere appreciation for a teacher whom we love and respect.

Freshmen

As Freshmen, these students have enjoyed many new opportunities from which they had previously been excluded. The status of real high school students is now theirs, with all the privileges and responsibilities that go with it. Their projects for this year have included two dances, a class picnic in the spring, and the sale of refreshments at the science fair. For recreation, there was weekly bowling and a trip to Jones Beach. All of these activities have added up to an exciting year.

Sophomores

The Sophomore Class has had an exciting and prosperous year. They presented the first dance of the season, entitled the "Sugar Shack." This dance featured a school singing group, the Gothics. A disc jockey was featured at their spring dance. The Sophomores also ran the basketball PX, held a skating party and picnic and climaxed the year with a class trip to Jones Beach.

Juniors

The Juniors have enjoyed a crowded but fun-filled year. The problems of too many tests have been mingled with the excitement of planning the Senior Prom and the hours spent working on the ARDSLEYAN. Their many activities have raised money for the class and benefited the students. The football PX, the much-needed bookstore, and the class dance have all been appreciated.

Romanoff and Juliet

Late in January, after careful deliberation, the Senior Class chose for their play Peter Ustinov's comedy Romanoff and Juliet. The play's witty dialogue enhances the satirical nature of the play, making rehearsals and the production enjoyable.

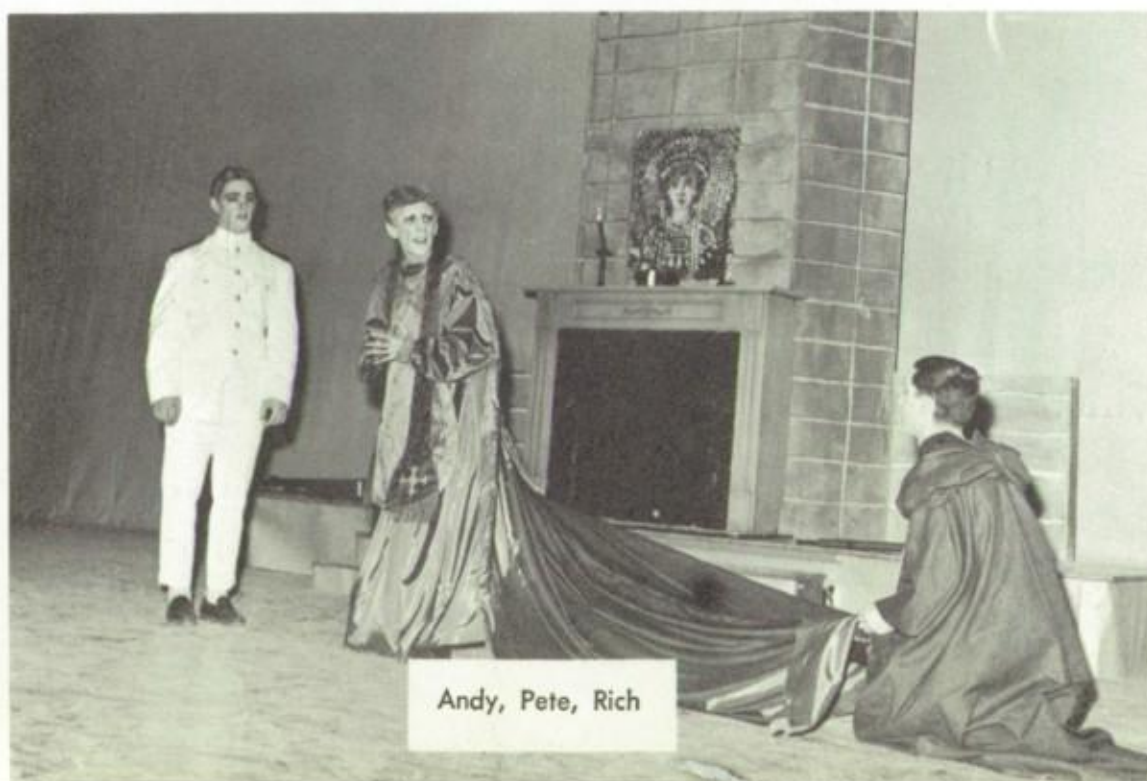

The setting for the play is the main square of the smallest country in Europe. The plot centers around a love affair between Juliet, the daughter of the American ambassador, and Igor, son of the Russian Ambassador.

The seniors' originality gave birth to many exciting musical numbers including a Russian peasant snake dance and a special Armenian caper by the boys. The actors' interpretation of the characters they played added spice and humor to the action. Another colorful innovation was the use of life-like puppets in the clock of St. Ambrose.

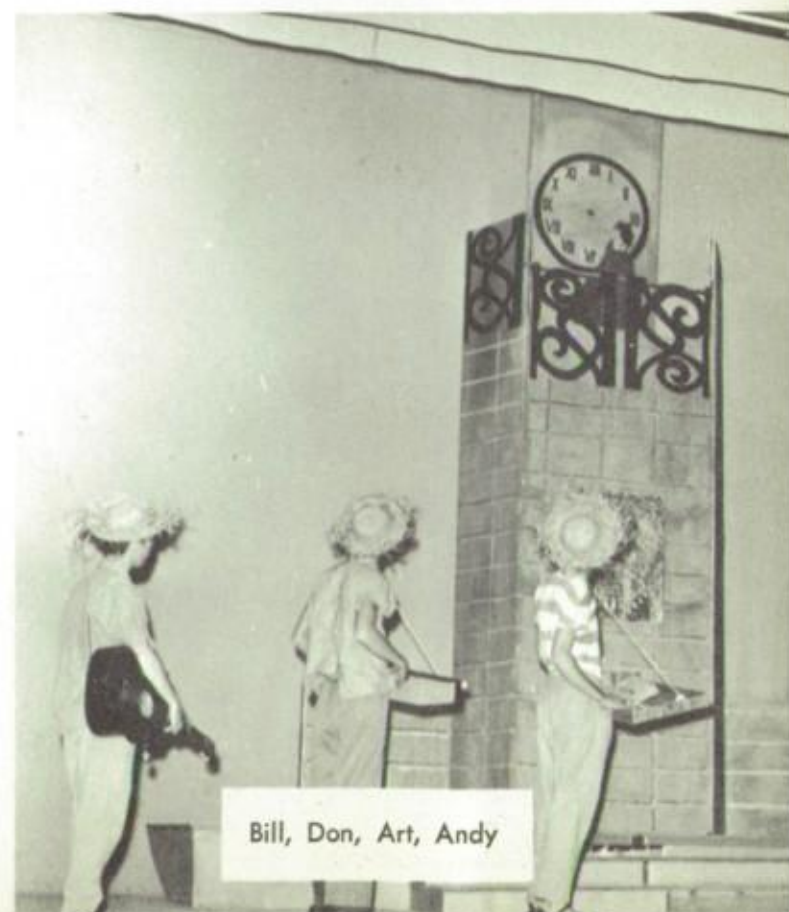

Under Mr. Baldwin's direction, the cast excelled in their roles, and every senior in the cast or on a committee worked diligently to make the play a success.

We, as seniors, have attained our goal in high school and are now looking forward to the new and exciting ventures which lie ahead. However, we would like to pause for a moment and recall our past accomplishments and the memorable times that we as a class have experienced during our high school career.

The honor of being the first class to complete the full six years in the new high school is ours. As charter members we have expressed great initiative and many fresh ideas in the creation of new class projects and services for the benefit of the school, as well as carrying on those traditions established by our predecessors.

Our activities have a wide range: from serving as hall monitors to holding festive class dances such as the "Superstition Stomp" on Friday, the 13th. We have walked up all the steps in progression, from the sophomore PX, to the creation of the Ardsleyan, to the presentation of the Senior Prom, and now to the expectation of attending our own prom. industrious efforts to augment our class treasury, we participated in a successful magazine campaign and the traditional newspaper drives. The creation and operation of a school bookstore where students can purchase the needed reading materials at reduced prices has been a great asset to our school.

Included in this year's whirl of activities was the careful selection and exciting preparation for our senior production of Romanoff and Juliet. Also, this February we initiated the idea of selling candy throughout the community for Valentine's Day.

As we gaze back on our years at Ardsley from the first frightening moment as seventh graders, and then ahead to our approaching graduation ceremonies, we realize that we are about to close a wonderful, yet meaningful chapter in our lives. With fond memories we leave A.H.S. and prepare to take our place in today's adult world. We will face many new challenges, but we know we can rely upon the experience and knowledge that we have gained at Ardsley High School.

Olympics unite our world

An Ardsley steal.

This year our Varsity Football Team found itself under the expert guidance of three new coaches, Mr. Jennell, Mr. Benninghoff, and Mr. Miller. Through the influence of these coaches, the watchful leadership of their captain, Andy Ewald, and above all through the hard work of every team member, the boys were able to exhibit steady improvement throughout the year. Although the won-lost record was not too impressive the boys showed everyone that when it is a question of effort, drive, and determination Ardsley cannot be beaten.

Valiant warriors in battle

This year Ardsley's Junior Varsity Football Team proved that in the future Ardsley will have a team to be reckoned with when it comes to gridiron competition.

Led by Mr. Caravaglio, another new member of the coaching staff, and co-captains Craig Glassman and John Sommer, the team demonstrated remarkable drive and determination.

The team's record for the year was five losses, one victory, and two ties; however the experience they gained in opposing strong competitors improved their playing and team coordination.

Cross Country

Under the able guidance of Coach Falvo, the Varsity Cross Country Team completed a respectable season. Especially significant were the contributions of Captain Don Woodrow and juniors Bob Trout and Steve Hamman. The team placed well in several meets and is looking forward to an even better season next year.

This was the first year that our Varsity Track Team enjoyed the benefits of its own track. The new track raised the team's morale, and for the first time made it possible for Ardsley to hold meets at home. In addition to the home meets, trips were made to the New Paltz Relays as well as the W. W. L. meets. Coaches Falvo and Jennell feel that the team, this year made up mostly of freshmen and juniors, has a promising future.

This year's Varsity Basketball Team compiled an enviable record. Winning ten games and losing only six, the team managed to come out in fourth place in the Western Westchester League's standings. In the process of achieving this record, the team provided Ardsley fans with many unforgettable thrills. One such incident took place during the Briarcliff game when our boys came from behind and scored 59 points in the second half.

Many factors contributed to Ardsley's impressive record. Among these were the expert coaching of Mr. Hesse and the able leadership of Captain John Pardy.

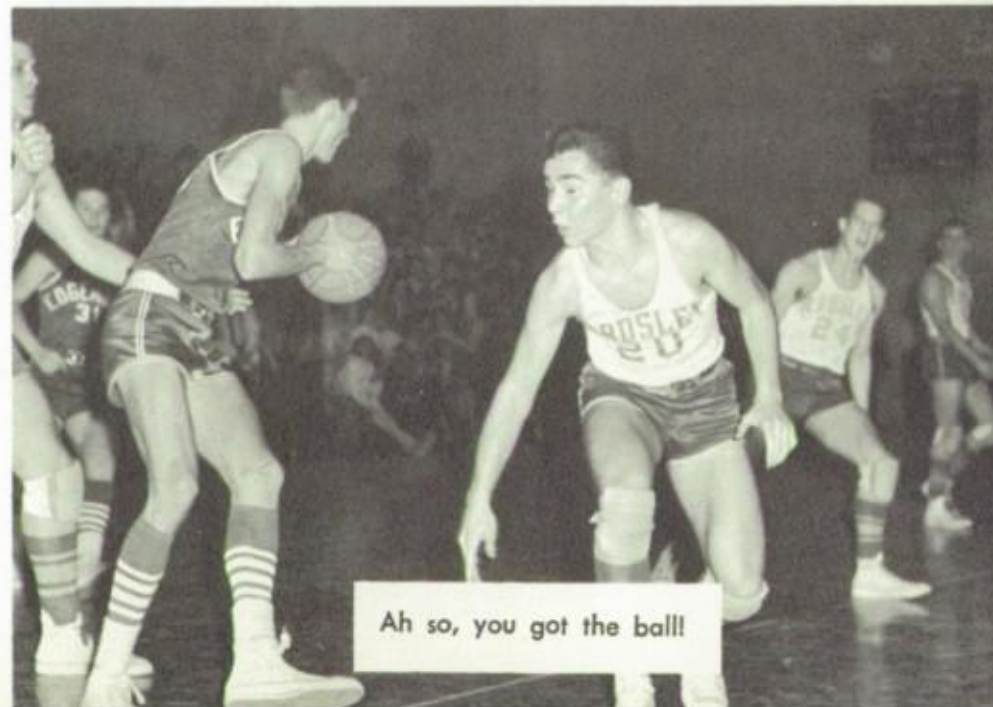

Although Mr. Hesse is sorry to be losing Seniors John Pardy, Chuck Fernandez, and Howard Glickberg, he knows that he can rely on Juniors Steve Hamman, Larry Hill, Rich Morrison, Walt Sassano, and Bob Wehe for a successful season next year.

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team is composed of freshman and sophomore boys who are gaining the needed experience before moving on to varsity competition.

Mr. Einhorn with the assistance of co-captains Dick Nusbaum and Ken Holloway led the team through the season with a record of nine victories and seven losses.

Dick Nusbaum highlighted the season with his magnificent scoring. Ken Holloway was also a consistently high scorer. Pete Sasko turned in many fine performances while playing a very difficult zone.

Next year's varsity team will surely profit with the addition of the above four boys.

If you are in doubt as to who the boys in blue and white sweaters with varsity letters are, they comprise the Varsity "A" Club. As a service organization to the school, the Varsity "A" Club helps facilitate school functions such as basketball games and football dinners. In order to be considered for membership, a boy must have earned a letter in a varsity sport. Presently, the club has 36 members and is advised by Mr. Falvo. The officers are Chris Roberts, President; Don Woodrow, vice-president; and Steve Einhorn, secretary.

Service needs enthusiasm

Leaders Club

The basic function of the Leaders' Club is to aid the girls' physical education department in officiating at G.A.A. games, organizing sports days and invitation games with neighboring schools, and offering its services whenever possible. Membership is determined by a candidate's ability and knowledge of sports in addition to good sportsmanship and leadership qualities. Miss Roll is the club's adviser with Lorraine Lombardi as president, Rona VanLeer as vice-president, Nici Galetta as treasurer, and Ann Johnson as secretary.

The Girls' Athletic Association encourages spirited competition and good sportsmanship qualities among girls participating in many branches of athletics. Throughout the year about two hundred and twenty girls engage in sports such as hockey, volleyball, basketball, softball, tennis, badminton, and archery. The more proficient members of teams competing in these various activities are chosen for honor teams and invitation games at other schools. Because of its large enrollment, G.A.A. is divided into two sessions. Lorraine Lombardi is president of the Monday-Wednesday group, and Mary Jo Tancredi is president of the Tuesday-Friday group. The girls are organized into two large competing sections, the Blue Team and the Gold Team. On the basis of a point system the girls are eligible for awards which are presented at the annual picnic held in June.

Criterion

The Criterion is an anthology of the Ardsley students' best in original and creative literature. Everyone is encouraged to submit his accomplishments including short stories, essays, poetry, and unique forms of expression such as Haiku verse. Behind this abundance of talent lies the Board of Editors. Theirs is the monumental task of selecting material and actually formulating the book. Mr. Shank is the literary adviser and guides their efforts. In the best interests of the school the Criterion, as its name suggests, embodies high standards and strives to promote an appreciation for good literature within the student body. Through the Criterion the editors hope to stimulate creative writing and thinking.

Expression in our world

The school newspaper is the core of school spirit and student expression. In order to be effective in this role the newspaper must have a wide coverage of school events and issues. This year's Panther has achieved that broad variety that inspires student interest. From the arts column, to the sports page, to the Teacher Feature, the articles were informative and well-written, and there was certainly "something for everyone." Miss Wesp is the paper's adviser.

Student Council

G. Murrow, C. Beckman, P. Riegar, L. Vincent, D. Joyce.

This year, under President Pete Riegert, the Student Council has manifested its concern for the improvement of the school and the enrichment of school activities in multifarious ways.

For excitement on the dancing scene the Council sponsored the Rival Rock. To follow this up, sock hops were planned for Friday evenings after home basketball games. Reopening the "Panther's Den" was another project, which included dancing in the boys' gym during the second and third lunch periods.

Other activities have included sponsoring the Ski Club and holding a Football Awards Dinner. Also, throughout the year the Council planned and carried out many cultural trips into New York City. An annual activity which has been perpetuated this year is the selling of Ardsley jackets.

For any student who was interested in seeing for himself how the G. O. was functioning, almost all meetings were open to everyone.

The Council has attempted to get stronger support and keener interest from the student body, and has tried to use the students' ideas in forming new policies and initiating new activities.

Drama Club

The entire school has had the opportunity to admire the talents of the Dramatics Club. Its production of Thornton Wilder's Pullman Car Hiawatha was widely applauded by students and parents alike. This one-act play is a basically difficult one to act realistically, but the cast managed to impart to it a ring of truth. In its weekly meeting members prepare scenes to play before the rest of the club. This supplies an opportunity to become acquainted with various works and receive constructive criticism relating to acting technique. The club's adviser is Mr. Baldwin.

Audio-Visual

This year's Technicians, under the supervision of Mr. Richard Baldwin, are busily engaged in playing vital roles behind the scenes. While pursuing their own interests in the intricate systems of lighting and audio—engineering, the members can retain the personal satisfaction of bringing enjoyment to others. Unseen, they are largely responsible for the finished production and success of all our assembly programs and special performances.

Many hours of practice, competing against each other after school, has paid off, and the team is enthusiastically looking forward to a possible championship.

Science Club

The Science Club, sponsored by the faculty members of the Science Department, provides interested students with the opportunity to explore this fascinating field.

The first part of this year was devoted to a program consisting of both movies and lectures. Highlights were the visits of several professors and field trips to the Veteran's Hospital and Boyce Thompson Institute.

Membership in the National Honor Society is considered a great honor. This organization represents and encourages within the student body high scholastic achievement, a willingness to serve, leadership qualities, responsibility, and character. This year's members displayed great enthusiasm, and under the guidance of Mrs. Catherine Felter participated in many activities including tutoring, serving as aids in the library, directing the local honor society, and for some members the rewarding experience of teaching foreign students to speak English. The officers were President, Nancy Poehlman and Secretary, Sheila Belove.

In its second year of existence, this activity has again proved to be a great asset to the school. Open after school and through lunch hours, the bookstore provides students with ample opportunity to purchase material. The bookstore co-operates with the school by stocking special review books needed by classes such as the Math Review Course. Mr. Cox aids in the operation and successful management of this worthwhile project.

Ski Club

The Ski Club, organized by Mr. Falvo and Mr. Dycke, provides not only advanced skiers, but any interested student, with the opportunity to enjoy and participate in the healthy winter sport. At meetings, slides and movies were shown and the members planned several trips to such resorts as Bel Air. Also through the school, a series of lessons for beginners was successfully attended. The Ski Club's officers were President Ricky Goodman and Secretary Sally Turner.

Art Club

The Art Club provides the opportunity for its members to develop their talents and work creatively on individual projects. It also enables those students not regularly enrolled in art classes to express themselves. Students are encouraged to explore new media in art, and their projects are completely of their own choosing. Mr. Pylypczuk is the adviser of this club.

Home Economics

The Home Economics Club, instructed by Mrs. Howes, has experienced a busy, rewarding year. Through the completion of many varied projects aimed at developing capable future homemakers, the girls have improved their skills in preparing meals and have experienced a great feeling of accomplishment that comes with sewing and modeling their own clothes.

Band

The presence of music,

Under the fine leadership and inspiration of Mr. Joseph Greco, the Ardsley Band has attained a greater depth and maturity in its performance. Early in the season the band rallied to the support of our football team and augmented school spirit by marching at games and for pep rallies. The successful performance of grade six music can be attributed to the industry of its members and to the high caliber of playing in all sections. The band was honored to have four of its members chosen for All-State and twenty-two chosen for the All-County Music Festivals. At the Fifth Annual Concert soloists were featured and the band performed an original composition by Mark Zuckerman, a member of the band.

This year the Ardsley High School Senior Chorus has had the opportunity of singing under the direction of Mr. Freeberg. He worked with the basic talents of its members resulting in the fine, polished choral group we heard at the school's Christmas Concert. The religious music performed was enhanced by the use of choir robes. In the weekly meetings they practiced choral technique and developed a familiarity with a great variety of music.

Orchestra

Because the orchestra is composed of young musicians who accept the challenge for performing music at an advanced level, and because of the strong and persevering leadership of Mr. Vincent, the orchestra has grown into an excellent musical group of which Ardsley students may well be proud.

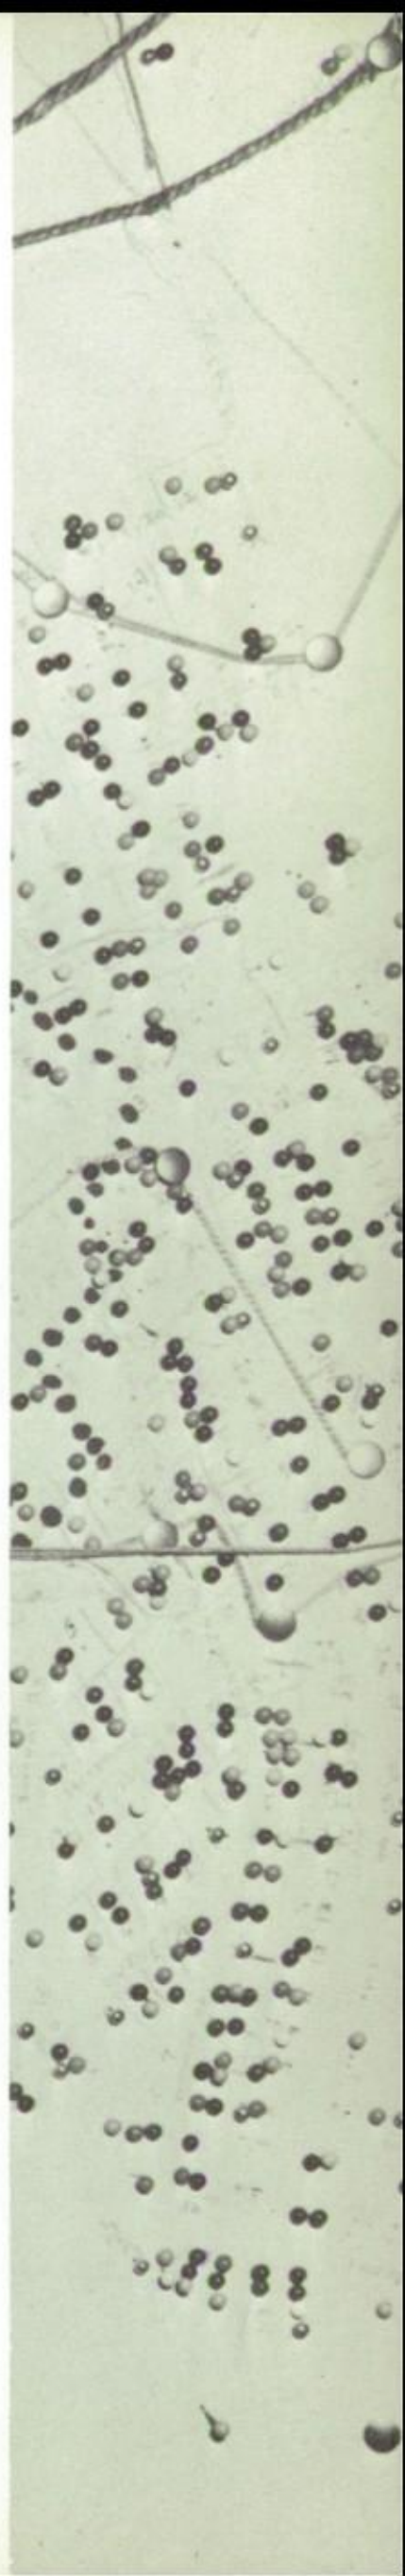

The students have had two excellent concerts this year; the first at Christmas, and the second on April 11, the first annual orchestra concert.

The orchestra is now expanded to full instrumentation. They again entered competition. Members of the group played in the All-State Sectional Junior and Senior High School Orchestras, thus proving the skill of Ardsley musicians.

Ardsley High School is proud of the orchestra and its accomplishments and is glad for the culture and pleasure it affords Ardsley students.

There's no substitute for experience; DOBBS FERRY MOTORS at 397 Broadway in Dobbs Ferry has been in business thirty-five years. They carry a complete line of Ford cars and trucks, as well as a wide selection of A-1 used cars. Dobbs Ferry Motors has been an authorized Ford Dealer since 1938. Call OW 3-0362 for your friendly and efficient authorized Ford sales and service dealer.

The Ardsley office of the HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN is located in the most convenient area of Ardsley, with free parking. We promote thrift and home ownership with a personal service. Call us at OW 3-2011; better yet, come in and inspect our beautiful office.

Don't be upset if your car is not working the way it should. In an emergency, simply call the WESTCHESTER GARAGE at OW 3-1954. Expert and dependable collision work is done by Mr. Nannariello and his staff at the garage on Addyman Square, Ardsley.

How do the new cars look? Stop in and discover the perfect mechanical reliability that comes from BLASBERG MOTORS autos. Their excellence in performance is true for every car Blasberg handles. As well as a full line of Chevrolet cars, they also give expert service. You can browse around the shop at 414 Broadway, Dobbs Ferry, or call OW 3-5040 for a demonstration.

Semmes Ford is the place to go if you want a top quality car at a reasonable price. "Westchester's Largest Dealer" has the finest selection of Ford automobiles in the country and a wide variety of used cars. Visit Semmes at the corner of Central Avenue and Ardsley Road or call SC-3-6600.

The most convenient way for a busy housewife to get her shopping done is to go to Louis' Super Market. This is especially true in the new building pictured here. Louis' offers free parking, cheerful service, and a wide variety of top quality foods. Call OW-3-1120 or 3-1121 for free delivery service.
